Daily Bread Executive Director Tracey Dixon spoke to the club at the December 4 meeting. Ms. Dixon explained the great things the organization does to feed those in Lynchburg less fortunate. They receive nearly 600 pounds of food each day, serving 80 to 275 guests with around 12 volunteers and 3 staff members. 20% of those served are families, 35% are over 65.

In 2014, 57,642 meals were served and volunteers donated 18,272 hours to the program. If you aren't aware, the Club has a day per month we help out at the shelter. If you're interested in helping, see Mike Staley.
