

April 3 Meeting Speaker

The club heard from the director of Brook Hill Farm, Jo Ann Miller, about their program. Jo Ann shared that they are a program that offers rehabilitative services and safe haven for unwanted horses as well as a therapeutic riding program for personal growth and education for at risk youth. The program offers youth from the surrounding area tutoring and life skills and confidence building training. 103 area youth have been part of the program with a 100% graduation rate – a great success. A Veterans Trip to Washington DC in 2016?

Eugene Wingfield is considering coordinating another trip to Washington DC for veterans. But, here's the twist – he needs help and lots of it. Club members must be willing to provide help, not just help on the day of the trip, but help with communicating with the veterans and getting the supplies. The biggest need is fund raising – a big part of putting on the trip. So, if you're willing to put in the time, contact Eugene soon to help him get started planning!
