Christina Delzingaro, CEO of the Free Clinic and Community Access Network, spoke at our February 2nd meeting. She told us how the Free Clinic provides walk-in, immediate and primary care services to high-risk, underinsured or uninsured patients, mental health services arranged through collaborative community partnerships, and access to specialists and other additional medical services. She also made us aware of the hundreds of health care volunteers, doctors, nurses, dentists and others, who donate their time to the Free Clinic to provide health care to the less fortunate.
